

About us

It all started from the desire of building something together, a family business.

Because of our love for authentic, fresh, tasty and natural products, it was clear we had to create a partnership with Mother Nature.

Giacomo, Nicola and Sara really want to pass on the tradition of their family who have been truffle hunters for many generations and they succeeded in creating an incredible bond with their dogs.

Proud of

The quality of our products, which are 100% from Italy.

We don't store our truffles in the UK; once our clients place their orders, our team of experienced truffle hunters go on a mission to find the best nuggets and send them to the UK. By doing this, we always guarantee fresh produce.

There is where our motto 'From our land to your hand' comes from!
